

Health Officer Gets Back Pay, High School Classes May Be Cut

Criticism of the town-operated Public Health Office and its director, Dr. William Eisner, were leveled by council members and interested residents alike at last Monday's town council meeting.

Despite charges of irregular attendance at the clinic and failure to carry out provisions of the public health ordinance in the charter, the council voted to pay Dr. Eisner the salary he claimed was due him for the last half of 1947.

(By action of the previous council, Dr. Eisner's salary had been reduced from $1755 to $1200 per year. Town Manager Charles T. McDonald informed the council on November 15 that Dr. Eisner claimed he received no notification of a cut in salary, and that he received salary at the old rate until the middle of the year.)

Recognizes Legal Claim

Council members Betty Harrington and Frank Lastner were outspoken in their statements that Dr. Eisner had not fully performed the duties of his office. However, since he had not been notified of any reduction in salary, and there was no record of salary change in the personnel file at the town office, they joined other council members in recognizing his probable legal claim and in voting he be paid for the balance of 1947 at the old rate.

Mr. McDonald assured the council that he is assuming full responsibility for the public health office and will see to it that a physician is present at the clinic when he is supposed to be there. The program is being studied thoroughly, he said, and will be improved as soon as possible.

High School Jammed

Crowded high school conditions were brought to the attention of the council by Albert J. Schaffer, president of the High School Parent-Teachers Association. Mr. Schaffer pointed out that the school was built to house 500 students; this year there are 750, and next year there will be 1000. Rather than have the students on a two-shift basis, he urged the council to act with other groups in the community to urge the County Board of Education to provide additional space, possibly by means of quonset huts. By unanimous vote the council passed the requested resolution.

Post Office Announces Christmas Mail Hours

The following schedule of hours will be maintained in the Greenbelt Post Office for the convenience of its patrons:

Saturday, Dec. 11, 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Sunday, Dec. 12, 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Saturday, Dec. 18, 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Sunday, Dec. 19, 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Beginning December 13, window service will be maintained until 7 p.m. through December 23.

James N. Wolfe, acting Postmaster, urged that out of town mailings be made by December 15 to assure delivery before Christmas.

UN Group Meets Friday At School

The meeting place of the League of Women Voters study group on the United Nations tomorrow night at 8 p.m. will be room 222 in the Center school. Originally planned for the home of Mrs. Selma Posner, the number of those planning to attend the meeting made it necessary to switch locations. All Greenbelters, men and women, are invited to attend.

First in a series of four discussions on the United Nations, this meeting will begin with the UN charter. Study kits prepared by the League will be available at the meeting. The rest of the sessions will probably be held in January.

Wants 99 Year Lease

Council member Allen D. Morrison's proposal for the town government to lease on a 99-year basis the town of Greenbelt from Public Housing Administration was given first reading. It is Mr. Morrison's expressed feeling that, in case mutual housing fails to buy the town, the federal government might be persuaded to enter into a long-term lease arrangement with the town. The high assessment of church properties here indicates that the price for the whole town would be far beyond the means of the mutual housing association, Mr. Morrison said.

The week of December 20 was officially proclaimed Christmas Week by council resolution. The town, PHA and Greenbelt Consumer Services are cooperating, Mr. McDonald said, for a four-night celebration. Details of the program will appear in next week's Cooperator.

Junior High Drop-Inn Members To Purchase Juke Box For Center

The junior high Drop-Inn members will play Santa Claus for the Youth Center by sponsoring a project to purchase the juke box for the canteen as their Christmas present. The project will get under way this coming Saturday night when books of patron tickets will be distributed to the members, with each member asked to obtain at least ten patrons.

The patron fee has been set at $.25 or as much more as a person wishes to give. Attractive patron cards have been made up to present to donors and a list of the juke box patrons will be framed and hung at the Drop-Inn in a special "Contract Burning" program. A prize will be offered to the member bringing in the most patrons.

One hundred and five boys and girls turned out last Saturday night for the first in a series of monthly dances sponsored by the junior high officers for the junior high members. Lynn Perchick, general chairman, and her committee decorated the center, arranged entertainment, and obtained prizes for the evening. Doreen Taylor walked off with the silver dollar door prize, while Roland Taylor and Clydis Creech were the winners of passes to the local theater in the lucky boy and girl dance contest.

Frank Kelleher, master of ceremonies, conducted the various mixers and introduced the entertainers, Anne Walker and Ronda Bibler, tumblers, and Wally Sherertz, singing "A Slow Boat to China." The Junior Boys' Club County Championship football team were honor guests for the evening.

This coming Friday and Saturday nights will be open house for the senior and junior high groups respectively, while the next weekend will feature a Christmas party on Saturday for the junior high. Admission to the party will be a can of food for Christmas baskets.

Santa Claus Likes Greenbelt Kids

Santa Claus arrived in Greenbelt last Saturday morning. With his arrival at Schrom Airport at 9 a.m., the early morning weather was discouraging. The rain stopped, however, and the overcast was lifting when Santa's plane finally appeared through the clouds over Greenbelt a little after 9.

Santa's trusty airship, the "Santa Claus Express," circled the town two or three times as a Christmas Clown appeared in town with a sound truck announcing the arrival. Then down to the airport it flew, and Santa's skillful pilot brought the cabin ship in for a perfect three-point landing.

By this time a sizeable group of kids and their dads were waiting at the airport. Santa distributed candies to his admirers, then rode with the Christmas Clown at the head of a triumphal procession to the Toyland section of the variety store.

When the sun appeared a little later, Santa Claus moved outside the store again and continued to greet a double line of youthful admirers until late afternoon.

Santa Claus reported that he was much impressed with the Greenbelt children this year, as healthy a bunch as he had ever seen; well-fed and well-clothed. "Greenbelt should be very thankful for its healthy, bright-eyed children," he said, remembering less fortunate quarters of the globe.

About three thousand children passed in line to greet Santa Claus last Saturday, including a large number from surrounding communities. Santa Claus will be in the variety store again Friday evening from 7 to 9 p.m., and the next two Saturdays.

Dance Classes Start Next Monday Night

The dance classes being offered here in Greenbelt under the sponsorship of the Recreation Department and the Drop-Inn, will start Monday with the teen-agers class meeting at 7 p.m. in the Center school auditorium and the adult class meeting at 8 p.m.

Those interested in the teen-agers class are asked to get their fee into the Recreation Department as soon as possible; however, all teen-agers of the town are invited to the first free introductory lesson.

The first meeting of the adult group is also a free introductory lesson. All persons interested in the class, as well as those already signed up, are invited to attend.

No News Is Good News

Tighe Woods, national housing expediter, and Raymond Foley, head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, had a meeting last Monday at which they decided to appoint two members of their staffs to study the request of the Public Housing Administration for a rental increase in Greenbelt.

According to an official at the National Housing Expediter's office, the purpose of the study would be to determine whether there should be an adjustment of rent, and if so, in what amount. The committee will then submit its recommendations to Mr. Woods and Mr. Foley.

The names of the men who would be appointed to this committee were not available at time of publication.

Ruth Morgan Sets New Area Record In Rifle Meet

The Gun Club's two rifle teams fired Maryland Rifle League matches at the University last Monday night. Team No. 1 defeated the Kensington club 1383 to 1340, and team No. 2 lost to the National Capitol No. 2 team 1296 to 1315.

Ruth Morgan had the high score in the first group. Her 287 out of 300 is only 4 points under the national score for women for the 3-position course fired, and is a new women's record for the Washington metropolitan area.

Paul Klender's 275 was tops for No. 2 team. This is his best score to date for indoor firing; it is excellent for the short length of time Paul has done competitive shooting.

The Gun Club will hold a business meeting at the home of Lyman Woodman next Wednesday night.

THANKS HELPERS

Editor, the Cooperator:

It is impossible to name individually all the willing people who assisted with the PTA Book Fair, but a few who performed special tasks merit at least this much recognition. Carolyn and Ralph Miller in a limited time did a splendid job of advertising and are reported to have ideas in store for the next Fair. We thank Ann Mazlin for cutting stencils for our order blanks, and Mary Rupert for lining up reliable people to assist at the exhibit. We are grateful to Betsy Woodman for undertaking the task of bookkeeping, and having the books available at her home for those who failed to get them at the specified time. Donna Romer and Tillie Wetter were of great assistance also, as they have been in previous Fairs.

Junior Boys Club 11 Win County Title

By Joe O'Neill

Last Saturday the Greenbelt Junior Boys Club team again defeated Oxon Hill 12-0 and is now the undisputed champion of Prince Georges County.

After a hard-fought but uneventful first half, Billy May ran 12 yards for a touchdown on a kick blocked by Bob Bradley and Ed Halley, making the score 6-0.

A few minutes later Phil Hesse went off tackle and ran 40 yards for a touchdown, Billy May made the extra point setting the final score at 13-0. Coaches Donny Wolfe and Pete Cookson were pleased with the fine playing of all the boys, especially Sonny Dickerson and Blacky Koehling.

This Saturday, December 11 at 2 p.m. the Boys Club will play the Montgomery County Champions, Bethesda-Chevy Chase, in Byrd Stadium at Maryland University. It should be a close game as neither side has lost a league game.

The boys will be on radio station WBUZ-FM tomorrow night, at 6:15 p.m.

There'll be a Christmas rush on Long Distance, too

Seems as if everybody wants to use the Long Distance telephone lines at Christmas. This year's rush will be bigger than ever. We'll be working hard to get calls through, with every switchboard and circuit in service. Still there are bound to be delays.

If you're planning to call faraway friends and relatives, why not do it before Christmas Eve or after Christmas Day? You'll get faster service.
